

Dario Di Stefano.

Born in Catania in 1989, he completed his university studies in engineering in 2014 and in the same year started a research that led him to obtain the patent for the Archicart technology. Since 2015 he is a doctoral student at the DICAR of the University of Catania and from the same year he is the founder and administrator of the innovative startup Area srl which is responsible for promoting and developing the cardboard architecture.